Lauren Michelle Branco showed deep understanding and dedication to both helping individuals and educating communities about women's issues. She expressed her commitment to women's issues in her writing, her work with undergraduate women while a student at Stonehill College, and her efforts with troubled girls after graduation. Lauren was a mentor and an inspiration, always willing to listen and encourage other young women through the difficult transitions of growing up female in America. In speaking about the support that Lauren gave to her while she was a student at Stonehill, one young woman said simply: "She saved my life."

Established in 2003 in memory of her life and work, the Lauren Michelle Branco Scholarship is awarded annually to a financially deserving female student who, through her academic and community work, has demonstrated a real commitment to making a difference in the lives of young women.

Recipients will be selected based on financial need and a brief essay on the applicant's experience as a woman in today's society.
