Please note: College policy requires that applications for interdisciplinary concentrations must be submitted at least TWO SEMESTERS before graduation.

A concentration will consist of five academic units. At least three units will be courses. The fourth unit will be a required integrative essay, project or performance. The remaining academic unit can be another course, an internship or an independent learning experience (i.e., independent research, the SURE Program, field study, community-based learning, etc.)

While two courses may “double-count” both for a students’ major or minor and the concentration, at least one of the courses will be taken solely for the concentration.

Name of Interdisciplinary Concentration: _____

Concentrations are structured in response to a well-defined question or topic. What is the question or topic you propose to study?

I. Courses to be applied to the concentration:

Course Number	Name of Course	Semester Taken	Grade
1.
2.
3.

II. Additional Unit of Study. This “fourth” component of the Interdisciplinary Concentration can be in the form of an additional course, independent research or directed study, the SURE Program, field study, community-based learning, or internship.

Please describe the additional unit of study. If a course, list number and name. For all others, use additional space to give a complete description including when the unit will be completed and under whose direction/supervision or name of collaborator.

III. Integrative Unit. The final unit will be a required integrative essay, project or performance. This component of the concentration may not yet be completed. A student must register for a Directed Study with their Faculty Sponsor the semester they will complete the integrative unit. Upon completion of the Directed Study form, the Registrar will turn the DS into ID400 Integrative Project for Interdisciplinary Concentrations. Once enrolled in ID400, the student and faculty sponsor must submit a detailed plan of study to the Director of the Martin Institute. What form will this integrative unit take? (note the specific description of the proposed unit, the learning outcomes that will result, the criteria for assessment, the frequency of contact between study and faculty sponsor, and a preliminary list of readings.)

When will the integrative unit be completed?
