EDUCATION STUDIES

In keeping with the demands of teacher preparation in the 21st century, the Education Studies program involves a marriage between pedagogical theory and liberal arts/science content.

Stonehill College’s Education Studies Department is approved by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to offer programs that lead to licensure for teaching in the following areas:

- Biology (grades 8-12)
- Chemistry (grades 8-12)
- Early Childhood: Teacher of Students With and Without Disabilities (grades PK-2)
- Elementary (grades 1-6)
- English (grades 8-12)
- Foreign Language – French (grades 5-12)
- Foreign Language – Spanish (grades 5-12)
- History (grades 8-12)
- Mathematics (grades 8-12)

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

Students who have completed their first year at Stonehill have opportunities to perform significant, publishable, full-time research under the guidance of and in collaboration with an experienced faculty researcher.

“I’ve been placed in different suburban schools and urban schools. You get a really broad range of what it’s like to be a teacher and what it’s like to deal with students who come from different backgrounds.”

– Katherine Womboldt ’12, now a teacher in Connecticut
