As the nonprofit sector has become increasingly professionalized, so too have the expectations for the CEO of a nonprofit organization become increasingly broad and sophisticated. If the CEO/Board relationship is to succeed, the Board must be sensitive to the responsibilities that the CEO has to his/her other duties. A strong partnership between the Chair of the Board and the CEO is a crucial element in successful relationship and positive outcomes for the nonprofit. It is important that the CEO and the Board are seen as a partnership, as allies, who play roles which are essential to achieving the common organizational purpose.

This workshop will address:

- How best to build a relationship between the CEO and Board Chair of your nonprofit
- Understand each other’s role as a board member and as the CEO
- How NOT to micro-manage your CEO!

*November 21, 2014
9am—12pm Workshop
(8:30am registration)

$25/person
(includes continental breakfast)

Martin Institute Auditorium
Easton, MA 02357

*PLEASE NOTE: This is the new date.

REGISTER TODAY!

About the Facilitator:

Abbie J. von Schlegell, CFRE has been in the development field for over 40 years. She has held key major gifts positions at Stanford University, The University of Chicago, and was Chief Development Officer for both the Shakespeare Theatre Company and for Enterprise Community Partners.

She edited the first book about women’s philanthropy, Women as Donors, Women as Philanthropists, published by Jossey Bass and continues to do research and speak about women’s giving.

Her extensive nonprofit experience includes capital campaigns, major gifts programs and volunteer and staff training. She now heads her own firm, based in western MA, and is a Certified Governance Trainer with BoardSource.

For more information, call 508-565-1856 or email infononprofit@stonehill.edu.